

EDUCATION ARENA BULLETIN, OCTOBER 2009, ISSUE 19

Welcome to the 19th Education Arena Bulletin. Since you heard from us in June we have lots of new things to share, so to start the new academic year here is our update on new online content, Special Issues, Calls for Papers and conferences from Routledge.

In this edition we are pleased to announce the recent inclusion of three journals into the Thomson-Reuters Social Sciences and Arts & Humanities Citation Indices.

Computer Assisted Language Learning and Race Ethnicity and Education have both been accepted into the Social Sciences Citation Index® and Research in Dance Education has been accepted into the Arts & Humanities Citation Index®. Congratulations to everyone involved in making this happen.

IN THIS ISSUE

Use the links below to navigate through the newsletter:

- New to the Arena: Free online content and audio interviews
  - Invitations to Submit: The latest special issue call for papers
  - Forthcoming Conferences: Where we'll be in the coming months
  - New special issues: Purchase special issues at a discounted rate online

NEW TO THE EDUCATION ARENA [\[back to top\]](#)

1. 'Viewpoints' essay "Of Boys and Girls" by Edward C. Warburton

In the past decade, much has been written about threats to boys' and girls' healthy participation in dance. New to the Arena, this Viewpoints essay, taken from Research in Dance Education considers some of the causes and proposed remedies, which focus almost exclusively on the roles and responsibilities of dance educators and administrators.

2. Read the exclusive interview with Sir Clive Woodward, which features in the latest issue of Reflective Practice, entitled: "Reflections from a World Champion: an interview with Sir Clive Woodward, Director of Olympic Performance, the British Olympic Association."

3. Audio Interviews with Len Barton, Michael Reiss and Roger Slee are now available to listen to online as a part of our Interview with the Editor feature.

4. Guest editor audio interview: Learning and Social software: researching the realities.

A special issue of Learning, Media & Technology

Neil Selwyn from the London Knowledge Lab delivers an engaging and thought-provoking discussion about 'Learning and social software - researching the realities'. Listen to the interview online now.

INVITATIONS TO SUBMIT [\[back to top\]](#)

Mobile Learning: using portable technologies to create new learning A special edition of Open Learning

This special issue will showcase and critically examine current innovative approaches to learning and teaching with mobile technologies, in particular those related to open, flexible and distance learning.

Expressions of interest must be submitted by 7th December 2009. For further details on this issue and instructions for authors, please view the full call for papers now.

Outdoor and Adventure Therapy: international perspectives A special edition of Journal of Adventure Education and Outdoor Learning

This special issue of JAEO will provide an opportunity to report on research findings and critically debate a range of theory, policy and practice agendas relevant to international developments in outdoor and adventure therapy. This will include debates on therapeutic initiatives, research agendas and political debates in this growing arena of outdoor practice.

The closing date for submissions is 28th February, 2010. For further details on this issue and instructions for authors, please view the full call for papers now.

New Journal in 2009: *Effective Education

“Seeking to play a leading role in shaping the field of research into the effectiveness of educational programs, interventions and provisions.”

Editor Paul Connolly would like to invite authors to submit their papers to Effective Education. View the call for papers flyer for full details.

New Journal for 2010: *Classroom Discourse

Classroom Discourse will focus on research that considers discourse and interaction in settings where activity is deliberately organised to promote learning. While most papers focus on the discourse of classrooms, others report research in more informal, naturalistic settings in which, while learning is certainly still taking place, it is not occurring in the typical and “traditional”™ space of a classroom. Examples might include online tutorials, peer-peer interactions of work-in-progress, and dialogues between “trainer and trainee”™ in a workplace context. For more information, please visit www.tandf.co.uk/journals/rcdi

FORTHCOMING CONFERENCES [\[back to top\]](#)

International Sociology of Education Conference (ISEC)

The 2009 ISEC conference theme is 'A Celebration of the Sociology of Education: the contribution of Len Barton'. The conference will be held on the 6th to 8th November at The Royal Foundation of St Katharine, London.

For more information view the conference flyer, online.

Society for Research into Higher Education (SRHE)

The SRHE 2009 conference will be taking place in Newport, Wales from 8th- 10th December on the topic of 'Challenging Higher Education: knowledge, policy and practice'. Keynote speakers include Professor Gary Rhoades, Professor Merle Jacob and Tara Fenwick. Full key speaker details are now available online.

History of Education Society (HESUK)

The HES UK conference is this year hosted by the University of Sheffield from 4-6th December. The conference theme, 'Putting Education in its place' will see keynote papers presented by Andrew Saint, English Heritage, Mark Dudek, University of Sheffield, Ning de Coninck-Smith, Aarhus University, Denmark and David Livingstone, University of Belfast.

To find out more, visit the HES website or contact Alison Glew.

Online Educa Berlin (OEB)

Routledge will be represented at the Online Educa Berlin (OEB) conference from 2-4th December this year, promoting a range of journals including Interactive Learning Environments. OEB is the largest global e-learning conference for the corporate and public service sectors in education and training. You can find more information online about how to attend the OEB conference.

For a full list of the conferences we'll be attending for the rest of 2009, view our online conference calendar.

NEW SPECIAL ISSUES     [\[back to top\]](#)

2-Part Special Issue: Identity, Religion & Education: Journal of Beliefs & Values

Volume 29, Issue 2 & Volume 30, Issue 1

Reflective Learning in Sport: Building and Sustaining Successful Cultures: Reflective Practice: International and Multidisciplinary Studies

Volume 10, Issue 3

Spirituality and Well-being: International Journal of Children's Spirituality

Volume 14, Issue 3

We hope you found this edition of the Education Arena Bulletin informative. If you have any comments or suggestions for improvement, please contact us at edarena@tandf.co.uk

Best wishes,

Routledge Education Team