

Welcome to the 20th Edition of the Education Arena Bulletin!

Dear colleague,

Please find information below on the new Routledge Education Arena. This newsletter is sent quarterly to keep registrants up to date on new content, conferences, call for papers, author services and special offers from Routledge . We are sending you this information to you in the hope that it will be of interest to you. Please browse the new site and if you're interested in receiving regular updates please send your email address to alexis.goodyear@informa.com.

THE NEW EDUCATION ARENA

After months of hard work the revamped Education Arena website has been successfully launched! The team celebrated today to mark the launch, along with colleagues at the Oxford office.

The new-look site comprises more content, news, special offers, articles, audio interviews and simple navigation- helping you find the research that you want to read, fast.

ON THE ARENA NOW

On the arena this month we have the latest hot topic articles, including research on informal learning and social integration, taken from Learning, Media and Technology. We also have 'Disability and the anti-obesity offensive', published in Disability & Society.

If you'd like to find relevant articles in your field of research, view our sample article section.

We also have the latest call for papers from ALT-J, with a Special Issue entitled The Transformational Impact of Learning Technology and Disability & Society with a forthcoming Special Issue on Disability: Shifting Frontiers and Boundaries

Also, if you haven't listened to them yet, we have our audio Expert Interviews where our editors offer advice on getting published and discuss the subjects that they know best.

OUR 2010 TRAVEL DIARY

On the new Education Arena you'll find an all new conference diary where you can find information on where we'll be exhibiting throughout the year. Why not take a look and see where we'll be in February?

THE ROUTLEDGE SOCIAL WEB

We've created Facebook and twitter sites to bring you the latest from the Routledge team and our published research. These pages are updated with special offers, hot topic articles, new audio interviews and journal news on a daily basis, so it's a great way to stay connected and become part of the wider Routledge community.

If you're not familiar with the latest developments in social networking, why not find out more, here?

We'd love to hear what you think, so please feel free to send us any feedback or questions on the Bulletin or website at edarena@tandf.co.uk.

Best wishes,

Routledge Education Team

January 2010, Issue 20.